

Specifics of institutional management of the language in Slovakia

Niektoré špecifiká inštitucionálneho managementu národného jazyka na Slovensku

Language management in Slovakia includes several actors, especially the process of codification is rather specific, with more institutional subjects involved. The hierarchy of these subjects becomes more important for language policy in matters of competence, e. g. power. Furthermore, the approach of the relevant power holders combines both types of language policy, status and corpus planning. This combination is rather unclear and finally has to do with the activities in a field of lexicography. In this paper, we try to reveal some issues we consider important (the status of the dictionaries).
